The red line between collaboration and plagiarism

√ Collaboration is allowed

- · you can explain a concept to someone in another group
- you can discuss algorithms/testing strategies with other groups

Plagiarism is not allowed

- you cannot discuss specific implementation details
- you cannot look at other people's solutions, including solutions online (e.g., GitHub)
- · you cannot publish your own solution online (even after the course term)

◆ Looking for materials is tolerated

- you can look for snippets of code online as long as this piece of code does not directly answer your a specific problem of the assignment
- if you copy more than 5 lines of code, put the source url as a comment in your code
- if you use more than 25 lines, do not copy it

Late policies

Each team will have 4 days grace period that can spread into 4 projects for interview, attending conference, errands, and so on, no questions asked

→ use it wisely
